THE VAIN HOWL.

The attempt of State Republicans to again drag the public schools of North Carolina into a political campaign in the hope of temporary political gain is meeting with resentment rather than success as a vote getting proposition.
The educational system, begun under Charles Brantley Aycock and builded to its present high state of efficiency through the untiring efforts of Dr. J.
Y. Joyner, is the proud boast of every citizen of the Commonwealth who breathes the freedom of thought and freedom of action. You may have noticed the suggestion before but it is worthy of repetition here:

Since 1900, the last year of the Fugion administration, the value of public school property has been increased more than fourfold, and of all school property more than eightfold, the number of teachers employed has been increased 4,850, or nearly sixty per cent; 4,864 new modern school houses have been built (thirteen years, 1902 to 1914, inclusive), an average of more than one a day for every day in the year, including Sundays, the average daily attendance of children upon the public schools has been doubled, the average annual white school term has been increased from 73.3 days to 124.22 days, the average annual salary of each rural white teacher has been increased from $37.60 to $235.27, or 175 per cent; 212 rural high schools for country boys and girls, enrolling 8,316 pupils, and seventeen farm-life schools for their vocational as well as cultural training have been established and are annually maintained; 5,134 rural school libraries and supplemental libraries, containing approximately 365,000 well-selected books have been provided. And the end is not yet if the Democracy continue at the helm.

It has been well and truly said that the public schools are the only hope of all the children of all the people of the State. They are the only surroundings for the freedom, the civilization, the power, the progress, and the prosperity of the State. They are maintained by the taxes of all the people for the benefit of all the children, and they ought to receive the heartiest support and cooperation of all the people, irrespective of differences in religious or political creeds.

The man, set of men, or political party that for political gain would jeopardize the interests of the public schools, would lay unholy hands upon them, would throw in the way of their progress unnecessary obstacles by unwarranted appeals to political prejudices, deserves the condemnation and just rebuke of all honest, patriotic citizens of this proud commonwealth.
Should such traffickers in the holy rights of the children succeed in their unholy purpose, generations yet unborn would rise up and call them accursed.

But, as usual, the howl of political opportunists will be in vain again, as so oft before, since the Democracy wrested the state government from the hands of its enemies sixteen years ago. Shall the pendulum swing backward. Not if the people know themselves.

The howl of the demagogue and hypocrite will avail him nothing in North Carolina this year, just as it has fallen upon deaf ears biennially for more than decade. Mark it.

A CASE FOR THE CITIZENS TO HELP OFFICERS.

The malicious act of some of Hendersonville's young men one day last week in trying to play "kid's" pranks on the young ladies of the city's leading institution should be dealt with at once.

Hendersonville's citizenship has been lowered when such an act goes by unnoticed. The business men should assist the officers in running down the guilty parties and an example be made of them for their acts. Should it be true that insulting remarks have been made by the young men they should be made to suffer all the more.

Because the boys are members of prominent families is no reason why punishment should be withheld and the merchants be allowed to suffer.

Very little comfort for Republicans is contained in the last straw ballot on presidential candidates published by the New York Herald. Just 15 days before the election the Herald finds that both parties are practically on an even footing, and leaving out one-third of the votes taken in California, Wilson has a plurality of 355 votes. Mr.
Hughes' plurality out of 146,064 votes was 3,727; last week his plurality out of 107,403; last week his plurality out that he is fast losing ground, and that the President is gaining fast. In figuring up the electoral vote of the states in which the Herald's straw vote shows the Democrats to have a majority it is found that Wilson has 229 electoral votes to Hughes 202.
Taking this vote as a basis, the election of Wilson is reasonably sure.
Wilson could lose 63 electoral votes and still have a majority in the electoral college, while Hughes will have to gain 64 to be elected.

The Asheville Times' first Sunday morning edition which appeared Sunday was a splendid advertisement for Asheville, and the way the merchants and other business men of the city bought space in the first issue no doubt was very pleasing to the management.
The paper was interesting from the first to the last of the 52 pages. We predict for the Asheville Sunday Times a prosperous future. The Times every day is one of our favorite exchanges and its editorial page a gem. For a booster for our mountain section, the Times can hardly be beat.

The Hustler extends felicitations to its neighbor, the Asheville Citizen.
Sunday was the thirty-third birthday of this publication as a daily and Sunday paper, and the forty-eighth year as a weekly. The occasion was celebrated with an anniversary edition of 40 pages, which contained many interesting bits of the city's history during the past thirty-three years, with an in-trospective of what the future holds in store for Asheville. May the Citizen continue to grow and maintain its high standing among the big dailies of the South.

Hendersonville from the viewpoint of a tourist makes good reading and we wish to thank our contributor for the article, on "A Reminiscence of a Tourist" appearing in this issue. We take it that the improvements mentioned include a golf course and a public park. These are two essential things for Hendersonville.

The Hustler wants to thank every one of its correspondents who sent in news letters this week, and we hope they will keep it up. Nothing helps a weekly newspaper more than its country news as told each week by its correspondents.

Remember the orphans. Read the appeal to the people of the State in this issue.

Only three more days in which voters will have a chance to register.

EDNEYVILLE R-1 NEWS.

(Special to the Hustler.) Edneyville, R-1, Oct. 24.—The farmers of this section are all very busy marketing or storing away their fruit.
Remember the fifth Sunday singing convention at Edneyville next Sunday.
John J. Townsend made a business trip to Asheville and Greenville a few days ago.

Sam Stewart and his mother of Ger-ton, N. C. have moved in the house with James Whiteside.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Wright of Lan-drum, S. C., visited her parents Sunday.

Miss Bertha Ledbetter visited her sister, Mrs. C. H. Osteen, the past week.

Mrs. T. A. W. Lyda visited her sister, Mrs. Fanny Kilpatrick, at Etowah, last week.

T. V. Lyda of Hendersonville, was in this section last week.
